

S

Stronger perception increases willingness,
which drives economic value

Sheffield makes sanctuary experiences poets opportunity

the manufacturing of tomorrow
DocFest
aerospace lighter equal opportunities
city breaks to remember jobs for the future
the most liveable spaces
the craft brewing scene
modern rules for football
the outdoors in the city
you feel at home

Sheffield makes people, and people make Sheffield

Page 4

People make our stories come to life.

Passionate people. Influencers, facilitators, thinkers, and do-ers.
What connects them all is an openness to new ideas and a spirit of inventiveness.

In Sheffield we don't need permission to try new things.

Above everything, we are wonderfully inventive

We've identified invention as the one quality that sets us apart from other cities.

It's a resourcefulness, a willingness to roll up our sleeves, explore new opportunities, try new partnerships and create amazing new experiences.

This spirit of inventiveness explains why Sheffield is a place that's constantly remaking itself.

Conference Sheffield

Portrait cover

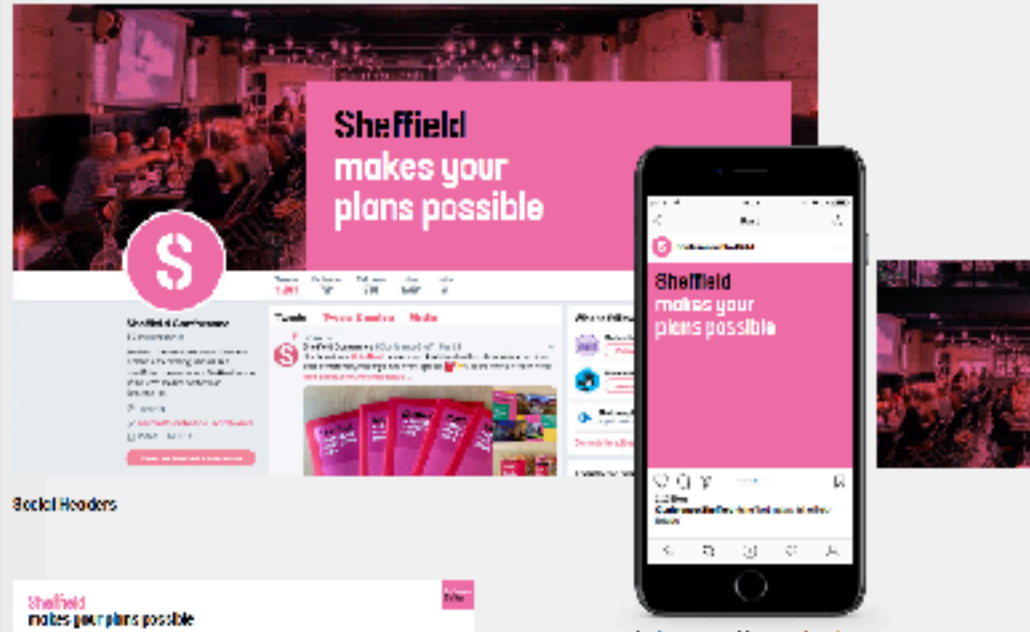

Instagram post/carousel posts

Landscape cover

PowerPoint cover slide

Social Headers

PowerPoint content slide

Word cover

Word content page

Business Sheffield

Portrait cover

Instagram post/carousel posts

Landscape cover

PowerPoint cover slide

Social Headers

PowerPoint content slide

Word cover

Word content page

Invest Sheffield

Portrait cover

Instagram post/carousel posts

Landscape cover

PowerPoint cover slide

Social Headers

PowerPoint content slide

Word cover

Word content page

Marketing Sheffield

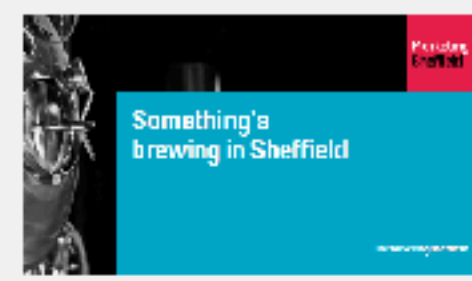

Portrait cover

Instagram post/carousel posts

Landscape cover

PowerPoint cover slide

Social Headers

PowerPoint content slide

Word cover

Word content page

「LOOK UP」

Sheffield

City/Nation/Place
Awards23

PROUD FINALIST

 BEST PLACEMAKING INITIATIVE

Visit ▶

Business ▶

Conference ▶

Living ▶

Sheffield is the 2nd best city break in Europe for 2023, according to TimeOut...

...and the Observer Food Monthly says we are this year's UK foodie hotspot.

That means amazing food, theatre, street art, gigs, bars, clubs and festivals whilst you also hike, climb, bike and run through the greenest city in the UK - with 1/3 of it sitting in the Peak District National Park.

Sound like a good way to spend a few days?
Then scroll down for more inspiration.

A city break with a soundtrack

Whether you've got tickets to a gig or festival in Sheffield already or love the thrill of discovering new sounds in unexpected places, there's a whole lot more to explore in our musical city... and it's not all blokes in bands either.

Throw in a legendary beer scene, amazing foodie places, indie shopping and great outdoors, and you've got a pretty enjoyable weekend away with your mates sorted...

See more

Quality time together

Life can be hectic, so a little getaway once in a while can make all the difference, allowing you to chill out, recharge and reconnect.

In Sheffield, we have a bounty of beautiful greenspaces to explore in the city, plus we're perfectly placed with the Peak District on our doorstep. Combine that with bustling suburbs, foodie delights, creative experiences and fascinating heritage, and it's a pretty perfect match!

Upgrade your business trip!

Well connected! Sheffield is slap-bang in the middle of the UK, making it an ideal host location for many national conferences, meetings and business events, plus with a compact city footprint you're never far from some great places to unwind in too.

So if you're in the city on business, why not make the most of your down-time while you're here and be sure to explore our great outdoors, fantastic food scene and vibrant culture... it may just make you want to stay for longer.

See more

Home to some of the most inventive conferences around

Conference
Sheffield

AIF Association of Independent Festivals

JILL FURMANOVSKY
Photographer

DR JENNIFER OTTER BICKERDIKE
Author and cultural historian

CHRIS BAILEY
The Boy in the Corner

CHRIS SHELDRIK
What's Words

REBECCA WRIGLEY
Rewilding Britain

BING JONES
Extinction Rebellion

BERT COLE
Arcaidia Spectacular

JO WINGATE
Sensoria

THE A-Z OF FESTIVALS
live podcast with Rob da Bank featuring Deershed Festival

TIM LEIGH
Stage One

FESTIVAL CONGRESS

Sheffield

THE CHILDREN'S MEDIA CONFERENCE

STEAM data (visitor economy)

2022

15.8 million
Tourism Visits
to Sheffield in 2022

1.7 million visits were made by visitors staying within the City area as part of a holiday or short break, generating 3.8 million nights in local accommodation

17.9 million
Visitor Days and Nights generated by Visitors in 2022

On average, visitors staying in Sheffield spend 2.3 nights in the area and spend a total of £82 million on local accommodation

14.1 million tourism visits made by Day Visitors in 2022

Day Visits to Sheffield generated £1.1 Billion for the local economy in 2022

In total, staying visitors generate a total economic impact of £272 million for local businesses and communities

Visitor activity and spend supports more than 13,285 full time equivalent jobs locally

A total of £1.35 Billion was generated directly and indirectly within the local economy through visitor and tourism business expenditure

Climbing at the Sky's Edge

The Outdoor City

Sheffield

The remarkable renaissance of Sheffield

The Steel City's revival is epitomised by the transformation of the Park Hill housing estate, the setting for a sell-out new musical

By Paul Miles

14 April 2023 • 8:00am

Related Topics

Europe, United Kingdom, England, Sheffield, Yorkshire, Peak District

Image: DAILY MIRROR

- NEWS
- POLITICS
- FOOTBALL
- CELEBS
- TV
- CHOICE
- ROYALS

Page 14

'Sheffield's mammoth transformation makes it one of the UK's coolest city breaks'

Sheffield city breaks aren't always the first that come to mind when thinking of UK holidays but one writer loved the former industrial powerhouse that's now famed for its urban transformation, sustainability credentials, and miles of green space

OPINION By Fiona Whitty
10:49, 25 Oct 2023 | UPDATED 12:27, 25 OCT 2023

For a place once synonymous with steel and cutlery-making, Sheffield is certainly showing its mettle with a mammoth transformation. The warehouses and factories that have lain dormant since the industries declined in the 1970s and 80s are being painstakingly repurposed as homes for craft breweries, distilleries and stylish places to eat, drink and shop.

NEW LIFE
Kelham Island

CLEAR WINNER
Winter Garden glasshouse

LOVIN' IT
Harvey and Rosie at Winter Garden

SHEFF'S SPECIAL

A city famed for cutlery is now cutting it as a cool destination. By Fiona Whitty

TURN TO PAGE 40

For a place once synonymous with steel and cutlery-making, Sheffield is certainly showing its mettle with a mammoth transformation. The warehouses and factories that have lain dormant since the industries declined in the 1970s and 80s are being painstakingly repurposed as homes for craft breweries, distilleries and stylish places to eat, drink and shop.

And nowadays, as well as being crowned the UK's most sustainable city and the one with the biggest amount of green space, Sheffield's been dubbed the Outdoor City a nod to its proximity to the Peak District's lolly countryside and its miles of cycling and hiking trails.

On a visit with my daughter Rosie, 17, and son Harvey, 22, I soon realised the perfect way for us to get a taste of its new-found cool would be on foot.

Although a large city, Sheffield's centre is wonderfully compact and its riverside walks and attractive architecture make it great for a stroll. Besides, a crime-novels solving and wedd been enlisted to help, courtesy of a murder mystery-style self-guided walking tour from a company called CityDays (£15pp, citydays.com).

Once wed activated the WhatsApp link CityDays had sent to our smartphones, we were delivered a series of riddles and puzzles which, once cracked, led us to various areas and landmarks, with suggestions for where to stop for food or drink breaks.

Our mission to find a killer on the loose

It's tucked away in Dyson Place, a former store area for materials destined for the mills that's been transformed into a beautiful courtyard housing businesses.

We felt like we were experiencing a little slice of Spain, with friendly owner Daniel – originally from Cadiz – serving up a tapas feast.

Extra-special dishes included superb turns belly tatakis with black olives, sweet green chilli and tomato dressing, and tender iberico pork that, as promised, melted in the mouth.

Other hits were the humble fried potatoes – the best wed ever tasted – and iberian ham and sheep's cheese croquettes. (ibericosheffield.com)

We stayed at the modern and friendly Leonardo Hotel in the city centre, just a 10-minute walk from the rail station and handy for the sights.

Our seventh-floor superior room was big enough for the three of us to comfortably share – saving the added cost of having to get two rooms – and provided views across the city to the Peak District beyond.

A 10-minute walk away past Sheffield United's Bramall Lane football stadium – the team were promoted to the Premier League last season and this campaign are taking prawling city suburbs, the boundaries of which extend into the Peak District.

On a tour our guide Elliott gave us a few tasters and showed us round, explaining how

STEEL THE SHOW

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 47

took us past street art and through the Peace Gardens, a pretty square with cascades and fountains designed to emulate molten steel and the rivers that once powered the great industrial mills.

We walked through the Winter Garden, an ornate mega-glasshouse that provides a calming oasis for passers-by – and 2,500 plants from around the world – and discovered stunning regenerated areas such as Kelham Island and Victoria Quays.

After around three hours of hard mental graft – and a fair amount of leisurely sightseeing – wed cracked the mystery and managed to rid the streets of a murderer.

My co-detectives and I agreed that it was a fun way of getting to know the city, and far more engaging than a straight walking tour.

Feeling proud of ourselves, we headed that evening to IberiCo, a small independent tapas restaurant that prides itself on home-cooked food using authentic Spanish ingredients that you're unlikely to find elsewhere in the UK.

It's tucked away in Dyson Place, a former store area for materials destined for the mills that's been transformed into a beautiful courtyard housing businesses.

We felt like we were experiencing a little slice of Spain, with friendly owner Daniel – originally from Cadiz – serving up a tapas feast.

Extra-special dishes included superb turns belly tatakis with black olives, sweet green chilli and tomato dressing, and tender iberico pork that, as promised, melted in the mouth.

Other hits were the humble fried potatoes – the best wed ever tasted – and iberian ham and sheep's cheese croquettes. (ibericosheffield.com)

We stayed at the modern and friendly Leonardo Hotel in the city centre, just a 10-minute walk from the rail station and handy for the sights.

Our seventh-floor superior room was big enough for the three of us to comfortably share – saving the added cost of having to get two rooms – and provided views across the city to the Peak District beyond.

A 10-minute walk away past Sheffield United's Bramall Lane football stadium – the team were promoted to the Premier League last season and this campaign are taking prawling city suburbs, the boundaries of which extend into the Peak District.

On a tour our guide Elliott gave us a few tasters and showed us round, explaining how the distillery's gin ingredients still had to be painstakingly winched up to the second floor of the Grade II-listed Portland Works as rules meant the building couldn't be adapted.

The height must suit it – the gins are tremendous (tasting tours £15pp, lockleydistilling.com).

Sheffield's steel-making past was recently highlighted once again on screen with a follow-up to the comical yet heartbreaking 1997 film The Full Monty, which showed unemployed steel workers in the city becoming male strippers to make ends meet.

One of the highest-grossing British movies ever, it's returned as a Disney+ TV series which caught up with the original characters played by much the same cast, including Robert Carlyle, Mark Addy and Lesley Sharp.

Keeping with the theme of bygone times, we popped into the National Videogame Museum, a showcase of computer games over the years. Don't let the fact it's a 'museum' put you off – this is full-on, hands-on fun and each of the 100-plus consoles are there to be played.

Parents will no doubt love the flashbacks to a misspent youth tackling Space Invaders, Nintendo Game Boy and Pac-Man. But our family favourite turned out to be the daft kids' game Buzz! Junior Jungle Party from PlayStation 2, where we fought off hungry lions, demolished lotem poles and pelted opponents with coconuts (adult £12, child £9, thenvm.org).

Switching to grown-up mode we later swung by Manahatta, a sleek New York-style cocktail lounge with neon lights and bare brick walls.

Launched earlier this year the place is set in – you guessed it – a former steel factory.

For Harvey and I the Steel City Sling (a Sheffield Special) didn't disappoint – a lip-smacking mix of vodka, raspberry liqueur, citrus and spice.

A broad menu of mocktails meant that Rosie didn't miss out either – the pineapple-based Pornstar Nofmi was fun – while small plates of salmon tacos and spicy beef brisket kept our hunger at bay (manahatta.co.uk).

Nearer the hotel we came across cool coffee shop Tamper, located in a former silversmiths. Its impressive all-day brunch menu included Turkish eggs, salt beef Benedict and smoked chilli crab scramble (tampercoffee.co.uk).

It summed Sheffield up perfectly – a very modern city wrapped up in heaps of heritage and charm.

Parents will love the flashbacks to a misspent youth playing Pac-Man

PAINT JOB in the city

SLEEK CHIC Manahatta

TRANQUIL Peace Gardens

Sheffield lies on five rivers – the Don, Porter, Loxley, Rivelin and Sheaf – and seven hills

GET THERE
Sheffield is adjacent to the M1 (J31/33/34) or two hours by train from London, around an hour from Manchester or Birmingham and 3.5 hours from Edinburgh.

BOOK IT
Rooms at the Leonardo Hotel Sheffield, formerly Jurys Inn, start at £85 a night B&B. leonardohotels.co.uk

MORE INFO
welcometosheffield.co.uk

Youth centre
ONE reason for Sheffield's vibrancy and cultural diversity is the two in-demand universities – Sheffield and Hallam – which have a total of around 65,000 students between them, adding a youthful energy to the Steel City.

Sheffield

Make yourself at home in our Outdoor City

Total users June - Nov

Top ten page visits June - Nov

Page title and screen class	Views	Users	Views per user
	933,452 100% of total	390,934 100% of total	2.39 Avg 0%
1 All Events	94,074	24,095	3.90
2 Sheffield - your university city	55,309	34,226	1.62
3 A change of scenery	49,027	33,963	1.44
4 What's on in Sheffield	25,417	19,433	1.31
5 City breaks in Sheffield, The Outdoor City	22,078	16,595	1.33
6 Things to see and do in Sheffield	16,554	12,524	1.32
7 Top 10 things to see in Sheffield	15,918	11,812	1.35
8 Welcome to Sheffield - the official destination website for the city	15,515	11,595	1.34
9 Kelham Island, Sheffield	13,564	10,350	1.31
10 Visit Sheffield: The Outdoor City	13,418	9,982	1.34

Traffic by source

Top ten traffic by location (city)

Town/City	Users	New Users	Engaged sessions	Engagement rate	Engaged sessions per user	Average engagement time
	390,934 100% of total	450,100 100% of total	439,710 100% of total	74.24% Avg 0%	1.12 Avg 0%	1m 01s Avg 0%
1 London	141,197	151,767	157,891	76.15%	1.12	0m 50s
2 Sheffield	74,577	90,818	97,854	80.27%	1.31	1m 27s
3 (not set)	24,370	22,743	22,889	68.93%	0.92	0m 50s
4 Birmingham	20,030	18,281	18,906	72.56%	0.94	0m 57s
5 Manchester	11,834	11,255	12,419	80.07%	1.05	0m 47s
6 Milton Keynes	7,025	5,019	5,717	66.79%	0.78	0m 35s
7 Wolverhampton	6,073	5,284	5,428	60.18%	0.79	0m 36s
8 Leeds	6,060	6,967	6,946	76.03%	1.01	0m 16s
9 Norwich	6,710	5,406	5,035	60.65%	0.80	0m 37s
10 Plymouth	6,429	5,021	5,186	68.58%	0.81	0m 36s

Campaigns

Events

(both programmed & supported)

Brand

development

LVEP & DMP work

- More local businesses
- Attract more visitors
- Deliver for events and conferences

TH ANK

S

